JAMES M. COX

James M. Cox, whose likeness appears above, is the standard bearer of the Democracy of today as well as of all precedents. As the campaign advances the assurance of the election of Cox and Roosevelt have been made certain.

WOMAN VOTE WILL TOTAL 20% MILLION

How will women vote this year, and what will be the measure of increase in the grand total of presidential ballots, by reason of woman suffrage? In the states in which women have been voting the results show their electoral minds have gone along for the most part willingly with their men folks, and it is expected they will continue coupling with the masculine element.

It now seems likely that the nineteenth amendment, giving women the right to vote in presidential elections, will be ratified. In the last election women voted for president in the twelve states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. The average percentage of the population voting in those states was 31%. In the last preceding election in which men alone voted, that of 1912, the percentage of the population voting was 18%.

The Taft-Roosevelt-Wilson campaign of 1912, with women voting in seven states, showed a voting percentage of 192. The highest voting percentage of the woman suffrage states of the west was that of Montana, being 269. Illinois, in which in 1916 women voted for the first time for president east of the Mississippi river, voted 257 of her population, as against a percentage of 197 in 1912, when only men voted.

The figures indicate that women take as readily to the ballot box in the east as in the west. The rate of increase hitherto on account of women voting has ranged in the 17 states from the lowest, 102 in Arizona, to 100 the highest, in Illinois. If conditions were practically the same in all the states, with women having nation wide suffrage, the increase in the vote on their account should be 13%.

But the disposition to vote varies in the different states. The solid south, for instance, has never voted higher than .115 per cent of the population. The antipathy to woman suffrage is so general in the southern states that it is not at all likely they will do other than lower the average for all states of the voting population.

On the basis of these figures the increase in the presidential vote this year should not be much over 16 per cent, from the grand total in 1916 of 20,600,000—Washington Post.

A man was arrested in Douglas for saying his automobile could do 100 miles an hour. He was convicted and declared insane. If Judge Cole holds that is good law here (in Columbus) the state will have to build another asylum.

French Bluebeard Capable of Witticisms

PARIS, July 15.—M. Landru, the famous "Bluebeard," as the police call him, when informed that three women had decided he was sane and responsible for his actions, replied sarcastically: "I am pained that I cannot say the same about the men who are hounding me."

Landru will come up for trial on August 4 on charges of 11 counts of murder growing out of the disappearance of as many women to whom he had promised marriage.

"You charge me with murder," exclaimed Landru to Judge Bonin, "murder, 11 of them. I am shocked! These women have disappeared. I do not dispute the fact. They had had disagreements with their families. Let me free and I shall find them. You accuse me of having had 11 mistresses. I plead guilty. Where is the pattern, and 30, who has not had at least 12 mistresses? Will he be qualified for having mistresses? And pray, why have I committed all these abominations? To rob my victims? Of what? They had nothing but Russian securities and their furniture was of the cheap variety. Don't poster the French public with 'the Landru case' any longer. Send me my indemnity from the Germans. That is the most momentous question."

"Out With Germans" Move of Low Dutch

ANTWERP, Belgium, July 26.—Antwerp Belgians who suffered in the war have launched a radical movement against the few remaining Germans who, since the peace treaty became effective, have remained to re-establish themselves in business there.

The movement, known as "Heraus les Boches," developed spontaneously with a big parade here recently, and since then the property of some German merchants has been attacked.

"Heraus les Boches" placards have been displayed in many shop windows. The term, a combination of German and French, is meant to express the sentiment, "Out with the Germans."

The Belgian foreign office has stated that only a few Germans have been permitted to enter the country and that they had been for many years residents of Antwerp before the war.

Soldier Put One Over on the Marshal

PARIS, July 15.—"Fuch will keep us waiting 15 or 20 minutes," said the sentry at the Gare du Nord recently while the special train that was to bear the French delegation to Spa was being shunted on the siding.

An elderly little man, wearing the uniform of a general of division, military medal, was, cross and Legion of Honor, sauntered up and quite amiably said: "You must at least call him 'Marshal Fuch'."

The soldier took one glance at the general, then standing rigid at attention, replied: "One never says 'Marshal Fuch' or 'Marshal Napoleon.' Monsieur le Marshal!"

Smiling broadly, Marshal Fuch entered the special train.

Government Says Much About Gambling

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—Soldiers if ever does the government advise speculation, but the department of agriculture says:

"If you have got in gambling, take a 'fiver' on the stock market or play the ponies, but don't take a chance on fire." It gives this advice in a circular in its campaign against forest fires.

"It never pays to take a chance with fire," says the circular. "The biggest fires in history were started by those who didn't think the woods would burn. Be as careful of fire as you are of poachers; it's just as dangerous."

Said a Mouthful In Just Three Words

GENEVA, July 10.—King Albert of Belgium, accompanied by Count Joseph de Beldin, who served throughout the war as a "blue devil" of France, incidentally being at Verdun, ascended the peak the other day. The king and the soldier remained on the summit for half an hour, the guide discreetly, he thought, trying to question the king on his war record. The king was reluctant to speak of his war experiences. When the guide came down he asked a newspaper man:

"What was it that the American general, Sherman, said about war? King Albert told me: 'Sherman said all that is to be said about war in three words.'"

Romaho Mining Co.

Capitalization $400,000

THIS city, like all others, has since any line change was in sight, been visited by salesmen representing every known stock company in the country; and thousands of dollars have been spent for various schemes, some good, some bad.

At present there is a practically local organization, made up of men their townpeople can call by their first name. The officials of the Romaho Mining Company are men who would not find their names in a "scheme" of any description.

The prospects of the Romaho Mining Company are based on practical knowledge of ores actually in sight in the Tres Hermanas Mountains, and on the opinions of the best known mining engineers in this section of the United States.

Machinery has been ordered, some delivered, and actual work has been begun developing ore bodies on the claims of the Romaho Mining Company, and the future looks rosy to those who already have invested. If you are not among this number you should be.

The stock of this company is $1 per share and none will be sold for less. Get in on the ground floor. Your investment will earn money for you and it will earn money for Columbus, because this town will sell the supplies to the new mining camp. Send your order for shares to Tenney Williams & Co., the brokers for the Romaho Mining Company.

Hampton Gary has been nominated by the president to be minister to Sweden. He was formerly consul general at Cairo, Egypt.

To Give Wanted Child His Father's Name

LONDON, July 12.—The wife of Lord Mayor Cooper of London, on the occasion of the recent opening ceremonies of a refuge for homeless children at Walthamstow, said that the time had come for someone to introduce a bill in parliament to give "the untold number of unwanted children" their father's name.

The mayor declared that both during and since the war the increase in the number of illegitimate children has been "simply terrible" and that the death rate among these children is appalling.

"MUST THINK WE ARE AMERICANS"

PARIS, July 12.—The queen of Romania taught luxury-loving folk a good lesson recently when she entered an antique shop. She picked up an amber statuette and asked the price. "One hundred and twenty pounds," was the reply. "That's too much for me," said the queen, and her daughter, Princess Elizabeth, who was with the queen, added: "They must think we are Americans."

Making Strikers Out of Boy Scouts in Warsaw

WARSAW, July 1.—Boy scouts acted as conductors recently during a strike of municipal employees of Warsaw and which affected the street car system owned by the city. Men volunteers from technical schools and electrical institutions were on the front platform of the street cars as modernism. During the strike for an increase in wages of from 80 to 100 per cent, it is alleged, volunteers operated the electric light and power plants, the water works and the gas plants, the work all being done by boys and men members of the Social Self Aid Society, formed for just such an emergency. The strike was settled by a compromise.

German Mark Now Worries Ex-Emperor

DOORN, Holland, July 11.—The former German emperor William is greatly worried about the low exchange rate of the German mark. Recently, in hope of securing quarters for some of his staff, he has priced a number of houses in the vicinity of Doorn.

The prices have been quoted in Dutch guilders, but William, reducing everything in marks, has thrown up his hands and called the prices preposterous.
